

NEW MEXICO TOWNS

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Melville are rejoicing over the arrival of a young son, which came Saturday evening.

Tom T. B. Carson left the city for the northern part of the country on a political tour. He will visit every town north of here before returning.

The street has it that Delegate B. S. Hoddy is to be here on Wednesday and to deliver an oration at the court house.

Sheriff Alexander Head, of Rio Arriba county, who spent the last week campaigning in the county, was here yesterday and returned north this morning. Mr. Head, who is the Republican candidate for member of the council from this district, is sanguine that Rio Arriba county will give the Republicans a seat from top to bottom not less than 1,000 and probably 1,200 majority.

J. B. Pollard, with his wife and six sons, arrived in the city from southern Texas, making the trip overland in two wagons. They have been on the road two months and are on their way to Farmington, in San Juan county, where they will settle. They had but little trouble on account of washouts and expect to be in their new home by the end of this week. They leave Tuesday.

At a meeting of Santa Fe Lodge No. 469 H. P. G. E., on Saturday night, a committee of six was appointed to arrange for a ball to be given under the auspices of that order some time between November 15 and December 15. It will be an invitation subscription affair and the following is the committee which will arrange for it: A. L. Morrison, Jr., chairman; A. J. Fischer, G. C. Watson, N. L. King, L. Sprague and A. J. Griffin.

ROSWELL.

From the Register.

Mrs. James Rose, of Artesia, was in the city for the purpose of proving up on a desert land claim.

The number companies of the city following the lead of the grocers have decided not to deliver lumber after the first of November. The grocers will not send out solicitors.

W. M. Reed left for Las Vegas to attend a meeting of engineers to consider the irrigation plans contemplated by the government near that city.

The master rolls and papers for the formation of the military company have arrived and the necessary preliminary steps were taken on Tuesday night to complete the organization.

W. M. Montgomery, who was tried before the justice court last week for swindling, was found not guilty and has left Roswell. Several of the parties who had paid him money were fortunate enough to get it back again.

FARMINGTON.

From the Register.

C. G. Pluckney is in from the sheep camp this week, visiting with the home folks.

The Woman's Club met last Friday at the home of Mrs. Lillian Johnson. The subject of purchasing water filters for each room at the school was discussed. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. J. R. Pond's home next week, Friday, November 5.

Thursday the canning factory with a crew of thirteen women put up 750 gallons of apples. This shows what can be done with the machinery when cans are supplied. It is expected that better arrangements as to cans will soon be made and a successful run made on the apple crop this year.

The telephone service between this town and Aztec is wholly inadequate for the convenience of its patrons. Almost every time a business house asks for Aztec the reply comes that the line is busy. This entails loss of time and sometimes loss of business. The telephone company should add another wire to the line and give the people a chance to talk.

C. B. Richardson was in town with a load of salt brought from Salt Lake, about 200 miles south of us. This lake has a spring which comes up in the center, and the water soon forms a layer of solid salt over the bottom and every day or two Mexicans are employed to rake it out, and it is then washed and put on the market. It is a species of rock salt.

The work of surveying the line for the big government ditch from the Animas across to the La Plata was begun Tuesday. From a superficial examination of the country it is believed by the man in charge that a much shorter cut shorter route than that of the old Wilson survey can be found. Mr. Hinderliter left for Denver this week on business connected with the survey, but the work will be pushed steadily forward.

AZTEC.

From the Index.

W. B. Ross, of Farmington, representative of the Monumental Bronze company, has just finished the erection of a monument in Aztec cemetery to the memory of the late John Ervin.

J. H. McCarty's house, a two-story, two and a half miles this side of Farmington, caught fire in the rear part of the building at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The building and its entire contents were consumed. Mr. McCarty was in Durango at the time of the conflagration. The building and contents were insured.

B. A. McElroy, an old timer in this county, has accepted a position with the surveyors, and Friday last was the first time he was in Aztec for twelve years. The town had grown so in his absence he was scarcely able to realize he was in Aztec. Many of the old, familiar faces and landmarks had disappeared, and in their places were younger men, more of them, and beautiful business and residence buildings.

TUCUMCARI.

From the Times.

Mrs. Patmos, who was reported quits from an attack of heart trouble, is reported much better.

Saturday night last the residence belonging to Melvin Thorpe, located near the court house, caught fire from some unknown cause, and all the framework was burned. The fire started in the kitchen, and the residence, which was a two-story structure frame and stone, was burned, leaving the stone walls standing. The building was insured.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Optic.

R. A. Kistler, founder of the Optic, which was established in 1878, a quarter of a century ago if you please, is circling among friends from here again.

In excavating for the foundation for the boilers at the mill being erected at the Bluebird mines, the vein of copper ore was found to contain down to a depth of fifty or sixty feet. The entire ridge is almost a continuous body of ore.

Mrs. Arthur Harris, nee Schrock, who has been on a visit to her family in Ohio, has returned to the city, accompanied by a sweet baby boy, now seven weeks old. She reports that Miss Estelle Ashbrook, who spent a couple of years here, is in very poor health.

E. L. Brininger, the old time carpenter and ex-politician, here, is down from Pueblo, Col., and at present employed on the asylum addition. He is accompanied by his son and will soon be followed by his family, who are kindly remembered here.

ESTANCIA.

From the News.

Lon Atkinson began the erection of a cottage for A. H. Cox on his ranch. Mr. James Walker is also building a cottage.

John W. Corbett, of Mountainair, candidate for clerk of the probate court, was an Estancia visitor on personal business.

A Mr. Rose, of Santa Anna, Cal., is here looking over the valley with a view to settlement. He is well impressed with the country and its possibilities.

J. P. Kennedy, our local agent, is smacking his lips in anticipation of that Thanksgiving turkey he intends eating with his mother in Chicago. We envy him his trip to the states.

A herd of 500 goats was driven through town Wednesday from Bandera, Texas, on their way to the range at Aztec, San Juan county, this territory. They were in good condition and seemed well fed.

visit with her son, E. W. Trout, and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Trout came here about six weeks ago seeking to improve the health of the former, and he has made remarkable improvement. They will remain during the winter.

S. R. Hamery met with quite a painful accident at the gin last Saturday evening. While making some improvements and standing on a scaffold about ten feet above the ground one of the boards on which he was standing slipped, and he was thrown in such a manner as to severely sprain his back. He was taken to his home in Rio Vista, where he was confined to his home for several days this week.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

H. S. Kasten was recently struck on the leg by a baseball while walking along the street, and as a result is nursing a very sore limb.

James D. Catañach is the manager for the Santa Fe Water & Light company and will carefully look after all matters connected with electric lights in stores, offices and private dwellings.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Staffer, last evening at South Bethlehem, Pa., a ten-pound daughter. The mother and child are reported as doing well. Up to a few months ago Mr. and Mrs. Staffer were residents of Santa Fe and they have a host of friends here.

Edward Bassler and Joseph Dempsey, who have finished installing some new mining machinery at Dolores, arrived here yesterday from that place and left last night for Bisbee, Arizona, to install a new $10,000 set of machinery for a gold mining company at that point.

Mrs. T. B. Carson returned from an extended tour of the east, after visiting the world's fair at St. Louis and many of the eastern cities.

C. S. Adamson and Miss Flora Adamson, of Washington, D. C., arrived here last night and will probably remain here for the winter, if suitable accommodations can be secured.

George B. Paxton, the Red River mining operator, went north via the Denver & Rio Grande after spending several days in the city, returning from a two months' stay in Denver.

Agent Kennedy has had troubles of his own. The combination on the safe refused to "combine," and the agent was without his cash. The safe was shipped to Santa Fe, where an expert will investigate. There is such a thing as having a thing too safe,

CARLSBAD.

From the Argus.

T. J. Kelly, of Comstock, Texas, who has had about 9,000 sheep at the dipping pens south of town, started with them for the range at Aztec, San Juan county, this territory. They were in good condition and seemed well fed.

Mr. D. S. Avery, of Emporia, Kan., arrived in the city for an extended

OFFENSIVE CATARRH

I suffered for a long time with a bad case of Catarrh, and took a great deal of medicine without any benefit.

I had a continual headache, my cheek had grown purple, my nose was always stopped up, my breath had a sickening and disgusting odor, and I coughed incessantly.

I heard of your S. S. & S. and wrote you I commenced to use it, and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease. Miss Mary L. STORM, Co. B & Fells Site, St. Joseph, Mo.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 29, 1903.

I used S. S. & S. with gratifying results. I tried local applications for some time, and getting no relief I came to the conclusion that the seat of the trouble was in the blood. Knowing it to be a good blood medicine I began to use it and after using it for some little while it did away entirely with the offensive results in the nostrils, and I did not have to hawk and spit, especially in the morning.

New York Money Market.

New York, Nov. 3.—Under the influence of a strong and higher London market there is a pause of further improvement in our market today, with continued activity in the coals, Harrison group and the industrials. No confirmation of the reported deal between the Amalgamated and Hoisington people is obtainable, and on any further advance in that stock it will be advisable to take profits. Notwithstanding the obvious strength of the market and the manner in which prices respond to any good buying, we advise conservatism in trading until after the election is decided, as there is a possibility of another drive at the market on alleged political uncertainty. The bank statement on Saturday will be unfavorable, caused by gold exports and imports have been steady and the market is still strong.

The sheep and lamb market keeps on gaining strength. Prices are 15 to 20 cents higher than a week ago, and sales today are at the top notch. Some 74 pound Colorado lambs brought $5.78 and 103 pound Colorado yearlings $4.49. Fairly good Utah ewes were sold at $3.55 today, but choice ones would go up to $3.75. The run is dropping off a good deal, and is lighter than at this time last year. The good price for killing a steer are encouraging to feeder buyers, and prices on these have started a little.

Quality is not extra good now, and practically everything has to be sorted, leaving a good sized feeding end. Weathers and yearlings for feeding purposes bring $3.35 to $3.65, ewes $2.50 to $3.60, according to age and quality; lambs $3.85 to $4.55.

ROCK OF GIBRALTAR.

The Strait of Gibraltar is thirty-eight miles long and connects the Atlantic ocean and the Mediterranean sea and divides Spain from Africa. Its greatest width is thirteen miles and its narrowest is nine miles. The "Rock of Gibraltar," as the British fortress is popularly known, is about fifteen miles east of the entrance to the Atlantic ocean. The waters of Gibraltar wash the west shores of the fort, which juts out into the strait. Whether the large guns on the south face of the fort could prevent ships from passing through the strait is purely a matter for speculation to an individual who knows nothing about the range of these guns. Recent shooting done with modern cannon in the Japan-Russian war might lead to the belief that they could, as the shot that killed Admiral Wilton on board the Russian battleship in the last sortie from Port Arthur was fired from a distance of about eight miles by an eight-inch gun on a Japanese ship. Gibraltar's guns are modern, at an elevation of more than 1,000 feet, and of large caliber. Great Britain maintains the greatest secrecy concerning the fortifications in and on the "rock," so that it is impossible to state what could be done in the event of a hostile ship trying to pass through the strait.
